THOUSANDS SHOUT 'AMERICANS GO HOME'

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

There is a giant Rubber Tree in Bradenton, Florida. It was planted in 1913 by Dr. E. E. Moore. It is over 75 feet tall and it covers more than 8,000 square feet with its 100 foot branches. It is similar to the banyan and fig which spreads by dropping a limb down and starting a new trunk.

Many a boy is the kind of kid his mother wouldn't want him to play with.

It's quite the friendliest of men. We say "Good morning" now and then. And stop to speak of one thing and another. There's nothing I wouldn't do for him. There's nothing he wouldn't do for me. So we just go on doing nothing for each other.

What used to be a TV station break is now more like a compound fracture.

A grade-school teacher, trying to get over the concept of distances to her pupils, asked them whether they lived close or far away from the school. She received a number of answers, but the one she liked best was from the young mopeet who told her, "I think I must live pretty close because every time I come home, my mother says, 'Good grief, are you home already?'"

Police In Vietnam Use Tear Gas To Halt Demonstrations

By MARTIN STUART-FOX

SAIGON 275 — Thousands of Buddhists shouting "Americans go home!" and "stop the war!" surged through the streets of Saigon today in a series of anti-American and anti-government demonstrations. Police hit them with clubs and tear gas but they returned in increasing numbers.

U.S. military police said the rioters burned an American car but that it was not known immediately if it was a civilian or military vehicle. Other rioters, including monks, nuns and screaming followers, burned Vietnamese police motorcycles.

The rioters hurled barrages of rocks against the government security forces and threw an occasional Molotov cocktail. One teenage youth climbed into a tree near a pagoda and with a cry of "in protest to the government," tried to plunge a knife into his side.

Men, he fell to the ground writhing but the knife was dull and did not inflict a fatal wound.

In the first demonstration, 50 tear gas-firing, club-wielding riot police smashed an anti-government anti-American rally of 5,000 persons at Saigon's main Buddhist pagoda and threatened to use all force necessary to crush any more uprisings.

But Buddhist youths swarmed out of the Vien Hoa Dao pagoda to fight to march in the streets but police again used tear gas. The youths retreated, gathered twice as much strength and marched again.

Security police sources said the riot squads had at least a battalion of tough paratroopers in reserve.

W. Nages, Nancy Rose, Sandra Runyon, Robin Roy, Rita Snyder, James Snyder, Carlotta Underwood, and Loretta Williams.

serve and would use "whatever force necessary." The youths ignored the warning and moved through the streets in a torchlight.

Time and time again the youths retreated to the pagoda only to swarm out again.

The early demonstration of 5,000 was confined to the pagoda grounds and many fled screaming back into the pagoda when police charged.

Hundreds of stone-throwing teenagers, however, threw up barricades of flaming automobile tires after the police had passed. They tried unsuccessfully to corner individual policemen.

The teenagers seized and burned two police motorcycles, but the rioters escaped.

Photographer Knocked Down
A number of bystanders, including UPI photographer Steve Northup, were knocked down by teenagers chasing the two motorcycle officers.

Monks' hymns and banner-waving lay Buddhists formed up outside the pagoda this morning as though they planned to stage a protest march through the city.

Monks on a special sidewalk platform harangued the crowd, denouncing Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government. The monks warned the demonstrators to stay at the pagoda rather than attempt a protest parade.

Police made no attempt to interfere with the demonstration until two patrolmen had been injured by stones thrown by teenagers on the fringes of the crowd.

Kettles and Gongs
When police advanced on them, the teenagers beat tin kettles and gongs to summon hundreds more teenagers to the scene. They backed away as the police moved in, but threw up barricades when they had passed.

The police charge threw adults in the crowd into a near-hysterical frenzy. When rioters set fire to a car outside the pagoda, a monk screamed over a loudspeaker, "A man is burning himself to death!"

One teenager climbed a tree outside the pagoda and plunged a knife into his abdomen, shouting "in protest to the government!"

Buddhists said he meant to disembowel himself, like a Japanese committing hara kiri. In fact, however, he inflicted only a superficial wound, perhaps because the knife was too dull to penetrate his body.

Police restored order in 15 or 20 minutes, and most patrolmen left the scene. A good many Buddhists went home, but a crowd of at least several hundred remained in the pagoda to continue a day-long hunger strike.

Today is Saturday, May 21, the 141st day of 1966 with 224 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening star is Jupiter.

German painter and engraver Albrecht Dürer was born on this day in 1471.

On this day in history:

In 1822, what is considered the first Democratic National Convention got underway in Baltimore.

In 1881, Clara Barton organized the first American Red Cross in Washington and consented to serve as its first president.

In 1941, President Roosevelt proclaimed "an unlimited state of national emergency."

In 1962, the American Medical Association labeled President John F. Kennedy's proposed Medicare legislation a "cruel hoax."

MAYOR PROCLAIMS POPPY DAY IN TRIBUTE TO OUR WAR DEAD

Mayor Holmes Ellis has designated Saturday, May 21st, as POPPY DAY in 1966, in the City of Murray, according to a special announcement made today.

The hearts of all our citizens in the Murray area will be with this commendable effort this year as a means of paying tribute to all our war dead," the mayor declared.

"This community is fully cognizant of the great contributions and great sacrifices made by the members of the armed forces and on this day each year we have an opportunity of paying our humble respects to those gallant Americans who laid down their lives in order that we may continue to enjoy the blessing of freedom."

"It is also an opportunity for all of us to pay tribute to those brave men and women who still live as victims of the wars," Mayor Ellis pointed out. "The funds collected by the American Legion Auxiliary and all other volunteers are used to aid the many veterans still in hospitals and to assist the fatherless children and the widows of the war dead."

"Poppy Day should be one of solemn remembrance for all of us in Murray, keeping in mind always those courageous souls who laid down their lives in order that we may live in peace and prosperity. It constitutes a debt which we can never pay—but all of us can, in a small way, show our appreciation by wearing the bright scarlet blossom of remembrance on Poppy Day, May 21st."

"Therefore, I do declare Saturday, May 21, 1966, to be Poppy Day in the City of Murray, and urge all our citizens to join in this worthwhile observance by wearing the memorial flower."

Directing the Poppy Day activities here will be Mrs. Cohen Subbitt, chairman, for the Murray 75 Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Poppy Day originated some 45 years ago as a simple and sincere method of paying tribute to the war dead of the nation, Mrs. Subbitt said.

GOLD RELEASED

PHILADELPHIA 6P — Harry Gold, characterizing the atomic spy activity which sent him to prison 16 years as a "honest mistake," walked out of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., Wednesday on parole.

The 56-year-old biochemist and convicted spy courier, whose testimony helped send Julius and Ethel Rosenberg to the electric chair for conveying nuclear secrets to Russia, was thinner and grayer than when he entered prison in December, 1950 to serve a 30-year term.

Gold plans to rest for a few weeks at the home of his brother Joseph, 48, here before seeking a job.

Phillies' Surprise Still Baffles The National League

By CURT BLOK

UPI Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies had a surprise ready when the season opened and the National League still hasn't gotten over the shock. The unexpected package was a 26-year-old left-hander who is constantly correcting people who try to alter the spelling of his first name. He is Darold Knowles and if Floridians don't remember seeing much of him in spring training it's because Manager Gene Mauch wanted it that way.

Mauch carefully avoided using Knowles against National League rivals in pre-season play so that they wouldn't get a look at the former Baltimore Oriole before the games counted in the standings. Since then they've seen more than they care to admit.

Knowles made his 13th relief appearance Friday night and chalked up his fourth consecutive victory without a loss by pitching 2 2/3 hitless innings as the Phils pushed across a run in the 10th inning to edge Houston 6-5.

Cubs Blasted Elsewhere in the senior circuit, Pittsburgh dumped Los Angeles 7-3; New York outthrew San Francisco 7-5; Atlanta slaughtered Chicago 12-2; and Cincinnati stopped St. Louis 5-3.

In the American League, Baltimore split with Detroit, winning the first game of a doubleheader 8-4 and dropping the second 9-5; Boston blanked Kansas City 3-0; New York nipped Minnesota 2-1; Cleveland defeated Chicago 3-2, and Washington registered a 6-5 triumph over California.

Knowles came to Philadelphia last December to fill a crying need for a southpaw in the Phillie bullpen. Mauch decided to pitch Knowles in the spring the same way he had used Jim Bunning when he switched leagues in 1964—only against American League clubs.

Bunning got off to a great start that year and Knowles has nothing to be ashamed of this season. His Friday night showing lowered his earned run average to a smart 2.05 and left Philadelphia in fifth place, 4 1/2 games behind San Francisco.

Clutch Hitter

The Phils beat the Astros when Harvey Kuenn pinch hit a double leading off the 10th, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly. Pittsburgh raked Los Angeles starter Don Sutton for five runs in the first inning and then coasted home behind the pitching of Woody Fryman and Pete Mikkelsen. Mikkelsen entered the game in the fifth inning and allowed only three hits over the last 4 2/3 innings to earn his second win in three decisions.

Hot hitting Ron Hunt drove in five Met runs with a home run and a bases loaded single. His three-run homer off lower Lindy McDaniel in the eighth inning snapped a 4-4 deadlock. Jim Ray Hart had two roundtrippers for San Francisco and Ollie Brown smacked one.

The loss cut the Giants lead to 2 1/2 games over Houston and four games over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

Homer Happy Atlanta unloaded five home runs, including the first two of the season for Mack Jones, as they beat the last place Cubs. Hank Aaron home run total to 14 and Joe Torre and Felipe Alou both picked up number nine. Ernie Banks hit his first two circuit clouts of the year for the Cubs runs.

Home runs by John Edwards, Tommy Helms and Deron Johnson accounted for all the Cincinnati runs as the Reds won their fifth in a row. Joe Jay fanned 12 Cardinals and was credited with his fourth win against two setbacks.

From recent developments one is forced to conclude that the Kentucky Farm Bureau was not amiss when it came out with its strongly worded press release and resolution last month protesting the Administration's attack on the increase in farm prices as they relate to the rise in the cost of food.

Almost to a man the major agriculture writers and economists have taken issue with the President and his secretary of Agriculture in their efforts to roll back farm prices. Many have used the statement that 82 percent of parity was not very indicative of exorbitant farm prices and that it was assumed that the Department of Agriculture was supposed to be engaged in securing a parity of income for American agriculture rather than an operating price controlling agency.

Evidently these editorial comments have had their effect. Both the White House and its Department of Agriculture have been backtracking in their "optimistic" statements that farm prices would soon be lower and that the Department of Defense should resume the purchase of pork because prices had

Now that the agricultural economy has been forced to furnish this trend break on the inflationary hand the country is now experiencing the break that farm prices would soon be lower and that the Department of Defense should resume the purchase of pork because prices had

Things Have Changed For Jose Santiago

By JOE GERGEN

UPI Sports Writer

Jose Santiago, who couldn't please Manager Haywood Sullivan last year, has made Vice President Haywood Sullivan a very happy man this season.

Santiago, who claims he got a raw deal from the Kansas City Athletics in 1965 when Sullivan was managing that team, has quietly taken over the role of ace of the Boston staff this year and one of his biggest boosters is Sullivan, now a vice president and director of player personnel for the Red Sox.

"He throws the best breaking stuff of any pitcher I've seen in the league this season," commented the front office executive of Santiago, who Friday night stopped his old teammates 3-0 on two hits for his first major league shutout and complete game.

Although Santiago has changed his attitude toward Sullivan, he still bears a grudge against the A's.

Hidden Talent "Sure I was bearing down more against them," Santiago explained after the game. "I was surprised the Athletics sent me down to Vancouver last season. They wouldn't let me pitch. They were trying to hide me."

The statistics bear him out. The 25-year-old right-hander pitched exactly five innings in the American League last year before the A's decided they had seen enough and shipped him to Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League. There he compiled a 6-3 mark, mostly in relief, and a fine earned run average of 2.91.

"That was good enough for the pitching-poor Red Sox, who bought him from the A's last winter, shortly before signing Sullivan to his vice presidential duties. The Puerto Rican had responded with a 3-1 record after earning a starting role early in May and his earned run average of 2.35 is easily the best on the staff."

Cleveland, the American League leader, handed Chicago its fifth straight defeat, 3-2, Baltimore split a doubleheader with Detroit, winning the opener 8-4 and losing the nightcap 9-5, the Yankees snapped Minnesota's five-game win streak 2-1 and Washington edged California 6-5.

In National League action, the New York Mets knocked off the first-place Giants 7-5, Philadelphia nipped Houston 6-5 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh battered Los Angeles 7-3, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 5-3 and Atlanta crushed Chicago 12-3 behind a barrage of five home runs.

Hot Bat

Santiago, who won only one game for the A's in parts of three seasons, allowed a leadoff single to Dick Green in the third and a fourth-inning single to Larry Stahl. Rico Petrocelli, wielding a hot bat in May, drove in two runs with his seventh homer.

Cleveland scored three unearned runs in the first inning with Jim Landis' two-run triple the big blow and Gary Bell scattered eight hits in sending the White Sox down to their 12th defeat in their last 16 games. The victory boosted the Indians' lead to 2 1/2 games over Baltimore.

Frank Robinson homered and singled to drive in three runs and Andy Etchebarren also chipped in with a homer as the Orioles swept the first game. Robinson also homered in the second game but a two-run smash by Jim Northrup and a three-run pinch homer by Dick McAuliffe powered the Tigers to their victory in the nightcap. In finishing the second game, the teams violated a city curfew and the American League may have to pay Baltimore a fine.

Southpaw Al Downing struck out 11 Twins but needed relief help from Pedro Ramos with two out in the ninth to preserve the New York triumph. Rookie Roy White's run-scoring triple in the fifth proved to be the winning blow as the Yankees made Ralph Houk's return "home" as manager a glowing success.

GRANDMA JUST ISN'T WHAT SHE USED TO BE! To most of us the word "grandma" calls up visions of a sweet little old lady in a rocking chair, wearing a shawl, knitting, and now and then baking buttermilk cookies for the "young 'uns." But even grandmas have changed. Just recently we heard this story from a youngster who went on a class tour of a Western Electric manufacturing plant. In his written report, he had this to say: "I saw my grandma there, and she was insulating wires." Which proves, I guess, that grandma is no slouch when it comes to keeping up with, and even ahead of the exciting and progressive age we live in!

It seems a detective investigating the burglary found the phone directory open to the Yellow Pages listing of taxicab companies. He called them all, found that one had received a call from that number the night of the burglary. The cab driver identified the robber from some mug shots at police headquarters, and an arrest was made. All of which proves it pays to use the Yellow Pages... unless you happen to be a burglar!

Auxiliary Members To Sell Poppies Saturday, May 28

"Let us forget . . . wear a poppy!"

This will be the message of the American Legion Auxiliary to the people of Murray on Poppy Day May 28. Members of the Auxiliary will be stationed at numerous places all day offering baskets of Memorial Poppies and urging all citizens to wear one of the little red blossoms in honor of our Nation's war dead.

"We know that everyone in Murray will wish to express remembrance and gratitude by wearing a poppy on that day," said Mrs. Cohen Stubbiefield, President of Murray Unit of the Auxiliary.

"The memorial poppies have been made for the Auxiliary by disabled war veterans working in hospitals and convalescent workrooms," Mrs. Stubbiefield said. "The Auxiliary's memorial poppies are fashioned from crepe paper and wire stems and their production provides an interesting diversion for many hospitalized veterans," she added. "The work is considered valuable as occupational therapy, in addition to giving the disabled men, the encouraging experience of earning money once again. All materials are supplied without cost by the American Legion Auxiliary which pays the hospitalized veteran, for his work."

"An estimated 150,000 volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and cooperating groups are required to distribute some 20 million memorial flowers on Poppy Day. All contributions received from the public are used solely for the rehabilitation and child welfare programs conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary."

Dear Abby

What Will Hubby Think of This?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that I have five children (two are not in school yet), a nine-room house to take care of, and no one to help me. When my husband comes home from work he always asks, "What do you do around here all day?" Abby I could sock him! How should I answer that?

BOILING IN DOVER, N. J. DEAR BOILING: Don't answer him. But tomorrow, do absolutely NOTHING! And when your husband comes home and finds the beds unmade, breakfast and lunch dishes piled in the sink, the laundry basket spilling over with unironed clothes, and not a trace of supper started, he will demand, "WHAT HAPPENED ANYWAY?" Then it's your cue to say, "You're always asking me what I do around here all day. Well, today, I didn't do it!"

DEAR ABBY: Some good friends of ours went on an extended trip thru the orient recently and ever since, each time we enter their house, we are a captive audience for the slides they took. The last time, we had to be almost rude to get away at 2:30 a. m. They took 2,000 (honest!) pictures, and at 15 seconds each, I figure we still have another six solid hours of viewing ahead, not counting reruns.

Abby, we are genuinely fond of these people, and are interested in their experiences, but if only they would organize their presentation and edit out the underexposed, repetitious, and redundant slides, the slides could be fascinating. I am sure our sentiments are shared by many. Any advice for us stay-at-homes?

FOND FRIENDS DEAR FRIENDS: Yes. Avoid their home until the novelty of that trip has worn off. For some strange reason, friends who accept criticism on everything else with good humor and equanimity, become hostile when guests take a dim view of their slides.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Love Starved," whose wife wouldn't let him near her for fear he'd sneer her make-up or muss her hair. I remember something I read in your column many years ago. You said, "If women worked as hard to PLEASE their husbands as they did to HOOK them, we could turn our divorce courts into bowling alleys."

If my husband wants to muss my hair, it's okay with me. He's the reason I fixed it.

RUTH DEAR ABBY: Another girl and I work at a candy counter. She is a nice girl, but she never smiles. She walks on customers with a long face, and the way she says, "Thank you," sounds like "I hope I never see you again." I always smile when I wait on customers.

I think that is the way to get them to come back. My co-worker says people don't care whether you smile or not. They usually buy on the impulse and will come back anyway. What is your opinion?

ALL SMILES DEAR ALL: What a customer

Luncheon Meet Held At Holiday Inn By Home Department

A special luncheon meeting was held by the Home Department of the Murray Woman's Club at the Holiday Inn on Thursday afternoon at twelve-thirty o'clock.

Hostesses for the lovely luncheon were Mrs. Noel Melugin and her group who were the losers in the attendance contest for the year. Mrs. Guy Billington and her group were the winners.

Mrs. Melugin welcomed the group and Mrs. Baugman followed with a special thanks for the luncheon.

The department chairman, Mrs. Charles Grand, presided and introduced her other officers for the year who are Mrs. Clifton Key, vice-chairman; Mrs. David Henry, secretary; Mrs. Burnett Waterfield, treasurer.

Mrs. Key as chairman of the program committee named Mrs. Bun Swain, Mrs. Noel Melugin, Mrs. Bryan Tolley, and Mrs. J. A. Outland to assist her.

The department chairman congratulated Mrs. H. T. Walpole for her feature story, "Lamb In Variety, Western Kentucky Style," which appeared in the magazine section of the Sunday Courier-Journal. Mrs. Walpole is a member of 828 Home Department.

Mrs. I. H. Key, secretary, read a note of thanks from Mrs. C. C. Lowry thanking the department for the wire sent to her in Lexington when she was installed as president of KFWC.

The tables were decorated with bouquets of iris from the garden of Mrs. Clifton Key. Forty persons were present.

Areas of Interest

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

AREA rugs are providing the most interesting floor show going. They have so many decorative and practical uses.

Usually they are medium in size—4 x 5 feet, 6 x 6 or 9 x 12. They can be cut round, oval, octagonal square or rectangular and may be fringed or bordered for interest.

You can buy them ready-made or make your own with a usable remnant from your old worn-to-worn carpeting.

Decorative Aid

What purpose does an area rug serve? It's a decorative tool that can be employed to supply pattern, color and texture.

Because carpeting is a major investment, a neutral color is usually chosen for broadloom. Where a more dramatic effect is required, however, an area rug in a contrasting color can be placed over the broadloom to bring life and spark to a setting.

If new draperies are installed, for example, and they need to be coordinated with your old carpet, the trick can be turned with an area rug.

Practical Virtue

Adding and coordinating color are decorative reasons for using area rugs. Also in their favor is the fact that they protect floors that get heavy traffic and provide comfort underfoot, too. A durable fiber, such as Acrilan acrylic, is a good choice for area rugs because it resists soil and is easy to clean.

They needn't be used over broadloom, but can be employed solo where an area—in a hallway, under a dining room table, before a fireplace—needs a small rug.

Make Your Own

If you want to make your own area rug with a piece of carpeting you have available, here's how:

Turn your carpet over and trace a design on the backing. Ordinary scissors will do the rest.

You can edge the rug with rug binding tape and trim it with one of the colorful rug fringes available.

Make sure, however, you use a carpet sewing needle when you're stitching on trim.

AN AREA RUG used to define the area before a fireplace is made of Acrilan acrylic fiber. It's not only durable for this heavy-wear area but soil-resistant and easy to clean.

A CIRCULAR area rug placed on a floor covered with vinyl tiles provides a bright note of color for an entrance hall.

TACKLED AT headboard and ceiling, remnant rug covers floor and wall. It's trimmed with one-loop carpet fringe.

An investment in Your Future

...ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

IN NEED OF Specialized HELP

The car's acting up... sometimes he can repair minor problems himself... but this time it looks like it may require the work of a specialist. To correct this problem he needs a mechanic, someone who has the knowledge and equipment for this particular work.

In spiritual matters, individual worship is necessary and vital to one's life, but God in his wisdom has said that we need to worship with others too. At church we can receive help from those who have dedicated their lives to special service for God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
